UNLOCKING THE NEURODIVERGENT POTENTIAL IN HOSPITALITY

ADHospitalityD 2026

Attention Deficit HOSPITALITY Disorder

Why?

It is estimated that as many as 1 in 2 people in hospitality are neurodivergent (Burnt Chef Project)

Benefits:

- Enhance Experience – If your team members feel supported and their challenges are understood, their strengths can shine through, and they can provide the experience guests truly value.
- Increase Revenue – "Happy guests spend more". A simple fact of hospitality, if the experience you offer improves, your revenue will follow.
- Reduce Turnover – Team members who are happy in their roles will inevitably stay with you.
- Attract Talent – Neurodivergent candidates significantly favour potential employers that demonstrate a commitment to neuroinclusion (Miller & Doyle, 2025).
- Nurture Innovation – Neurodivergent people displayed far greater aptitude for creativity and problem solving. However, they cannot utilise these strengths if they aren't supported (Van Niekerk, 2025).
- Support HODs – Your leaders on the frontline, dealing with the potential issues stemming from misunderstood neurodivergence every shift. Equip them with the tools to do their job.
- Alleviate HR Workload – Conflict often stems from misunderstanding, increased understanding = decreased conflict. How much time does the HR Team spend dealing with unnecessary conflict each month?
- Shrink Costs - Reduce outgoings related to recruitment, absences, agency cover, wastage and a general lack of efficiency.
- Protect Yourself -The largest employment tribunal payment ever, was recently made to an employee with ADHD who disclosed their neurodivergence to their employer and was not appropriately supported – £4.6Million!

Who?

An Acorn Award winner with ADHD.

About Me:

- Opening Deputy GM of a luxury Cotswolds hotel named “the most exciting hotel opening in 2024”.
- Previous F&B Manager of a 5-star hotel, retaining our Michelin star and gaining 4 AA Rosettes.
- Extensive experience across nearly all aspects of hospitality.
- Graduate of the Master Innholders Aspiring Leaders Diploma.
- 1st Class Degree in Hotel & Events Management.
- Proud of my ability to generate commercial results through unapologetically people-centric leadership.
- Currently studying for CIPD Lvl 3.
- Late diagnosed with “Combined-Type ADHD” at 26.
- Offering the only hospitality-specific neurodivergence training in the UK.
- Combining my expertise in the intricacies of hospitality management with my lived experience as a person with a neurodivergent condition.
- Overcame debilitating, ADHD-induced burnout through understanding my own condition and partnering this with the support and understanding of my manager.

I was lucky to have an understanding and supportive manager. Many are not.

“Gareth is extremely responsible, hardworking and completely dedicated to his career and the hospitality industry. He certainly puts back more than he takes. I have absolutely no doubt that the future of our wonderful industry relies on people like him”
